Chiang Is Still Hopeful

'I Have Strength To Win,' China's Leader Reminds Followers

NANKING—(AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek told leaders of the Kuomintang (government) party at a New Year's day meeting in the president's office that "just because I expressed hope for peace does not mean that we have no strength to fight."

"I have the strength to fight—therefore I dare talk about peace," Chiang declared.

He continued:

"I want each of you (Kuomintang leaders) to understand this point. The communists will play on this—that we are suing for peace because we cannot fight on. This is a wrong psychology. We must not be deceived by communist propaganda. Our military strength still is greater than theirs."

1949's First Week-End To Be White One

More snow was Nebraska's weather outlook for the first week end of 1949.

Snow began in Lincoln shortly before 11 a. m. today and forecasters indicated the fall would be general over the state.

Lows tonight are expected to range from 15-25 with highs of 25-30 indicated for Sunday.

Norfolk was the state's coldest spot last night with a low reading of two above. Chadron registered Friday's high of 37.

Taft's Fans Claim Edge Over Rebels

Republican Oldsters Encouraged By Victory Of Elderly McKellar

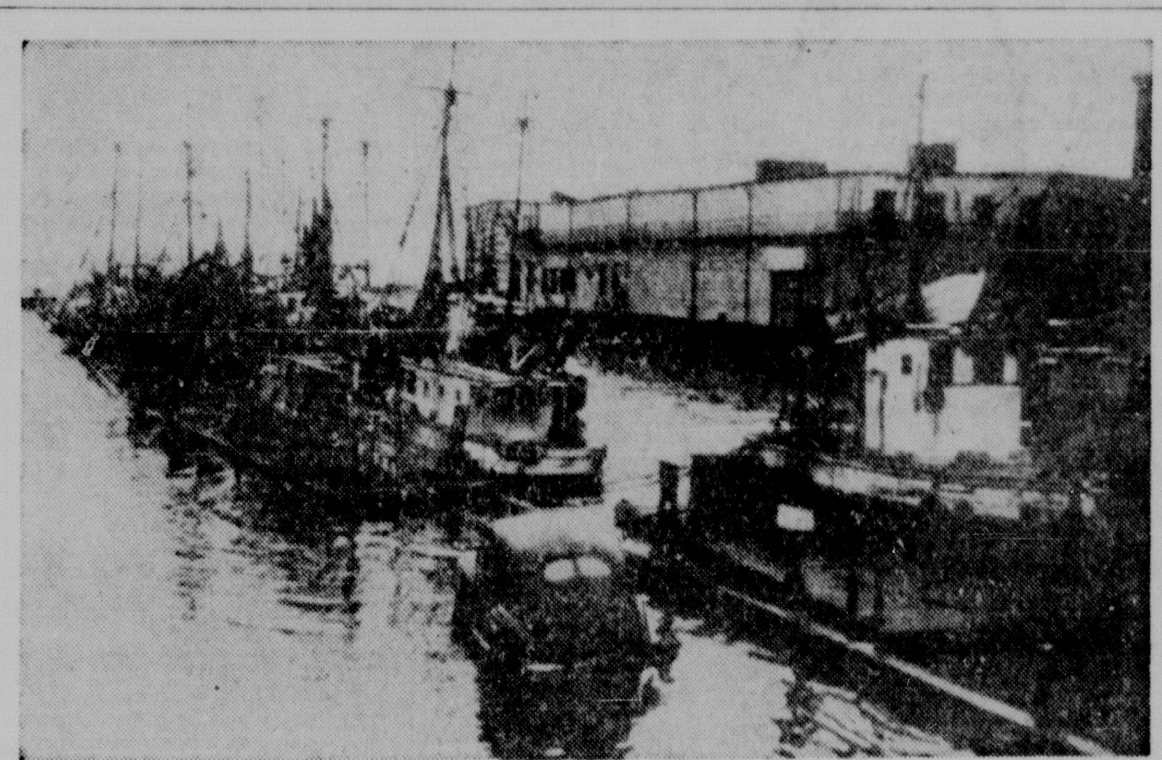

WASHINGTON—(AP)—GOP senate veterans—encouraged by the slim victory scored by democratic old-timers, prepared to renew next week their leadership battle with party youngsters.

Supporters of Senator Taft of Ohio claimed at least 25 out of 42 republican votes will be cast in a caucus Monday to keep him as chairman of the minority policy committee.

This would be a victory over a group of comparative newcomers who are trying to oust him in favor of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts.

Eastern Floods Leave Path Of Destruction

... Hundreds Left Homeless In Six-State Area

FLOOD AT BOSTON WHARF—A car appears to be tied up alongside fishing craft at a Boston wharf as lashing winds coupled with high tide flooded the area. Heavy rains caused floods in several sections of New England. (AP Wirephoto Saturday.)

Swollen Waters Recede

At Least Four Die As Rivers Leap Banks

(By the Associated Press)

Floods left a path of destruction over the northeastern United States today.

The worst appeared to be over, but dozens of streams still raged out of their banks over a six-state area.

Hundreds were left homeless. The overflowing rivers ripped out power lines, disrupted communications, forced wholesale evacuation of families and caused millions of dollars in damage.

Four Die.

At least four died in the swirling flood waters that swept over large areas of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont and Maine.

Rivers, fed by two days of pelting rain and swollen by melting snow, flooded hundreds of square miles in western Massachusetts and Vermont.

Although some of the swollen streams were receding this morning, many areas remained imperiled. Long stretches of highways and railroads were impassable.

Rain had subsided in most of the affected areas, but was replaced by snow and sleet which glazed streets and highways.

Ralph Wilson Assignment Judge For '49

Two Jury Terms Fixed

Distict Judge Ralph P. Wilson was appointed assignment judge of the law division in the third judicial district for the coming year in an order signed by the four district judges New Year's day.

He succeeds Judge John L. Polk who has had the assignment duties the past year.

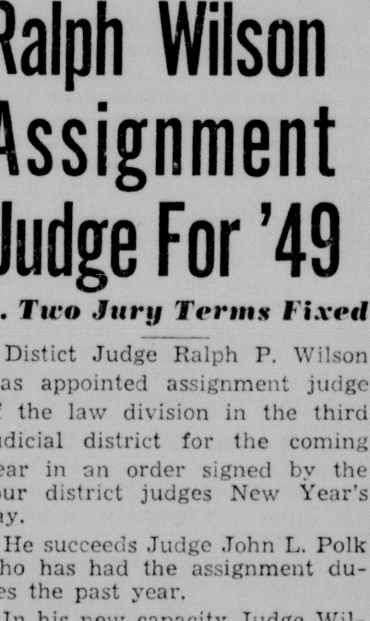

In his new capacity Judge Wilson will hear a majority of criminal cases and assign law cases to the other courts in addition to hearing routine legal matters.

Other Assignments.

In other court assignments Judge J. H. Broady will assume the duties of law division No. 2. Judge Polk will serve in law division No. 3, and Judge Harry R. Ankeny is appointed to the equity and juvenile court and mothers pension in courtroom No. 4.

The four judges rotate the different duties every year.

A January jury term beginning Jan. 24 and a September term opening Sept. 26 were also announced in the order. The terms will begin on those dates with juries tentatively set for every third Monday thereafter.

Israel Warns Egypt Against Shelling City

Jews Threaten Cairo After Ships Heave Shells At Tel Aviv

TEL AVIV, Israel—(AP)—Israel warned Egypt tonight that if Tel Aviv is bombed from the air or shelled from the sea again, Cairo would be attacked in retaliation.

The warning came after an Israeli spokesman said two enemy vessels approached the Tel Aviv coast shortly after midnight but were driven off by shore fire.

The thunder of heavy naval fire, mingled with the wail of air raid sirens, provided a noisy, unscheduled advent of the new year.

The spokesman said the ships "approached the coast off Tel Aviv and directed shell fire at the coast" shortly after 2 a. m.

"Fire was returned from Israeli shore batteries and after a short while, the enemy vessels steamed off," he said. No casualties nor damage resulted."

Quake Plunges 2 Coast Towns Into Darkness

Electric Wires Shorted

MONTEREY, Calif.—(AP)—A sharp earthquake rated as "capable of causing minor damage" plunged nearby Pacific Grove and New Monterey into darkness last night.

The latest in a series of earth shocks which has rocked California, Nevada and the Pacific coast as far north as the Charlotte Islands off the Canadian shore, knocked two high tension lines together near here.

The short circuit for several hours shut off all electricity to Pacific Grove, which has a population of 9,000 persons, and to New Monterey's several hundred residents.

The quake, which had its epicenter located near here, caused no other recorded damage, although it reached 120 miles north to set chandeliers rocking in San Francisco.

Couple Is Wed As Bells Peal For New Year

Bells of the New Year heralded Lincoln's first wedding of 1949.

Miss Dorothy Alberding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gartner, 1243 D street, became the bride of Herbert C. Tousignant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Tousignant, Racine, Wis., shortly after the stroke of midnight, Dec. 31.

Major George Pauli, friend of the bride's family, received the marriage vows in a chapel service. Miss Carol Jean Price was the bride's maid and Cecil G. Walker was best man.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars extended a fraternal courtesy to the bride and groom before the ceremony. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Following a honeymoon trip to Denver, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Tousignant will be at home at 1243 D street.

Mrs. Tousignant has attended the University of Nebraska. Mr. Tousignant, a navy veteran, is a mechanic.

J. W. Lundy Dies; Former Legislator

Pioneer In Water Power Development

James W. (Bill) Lundy, 76, 2046 R street, pioneer in Nebraska water power development and real estate broker, died Friday night at a local hospital.

Born Oct. 30, 1872, at Atalissa, Ia., Mr. Lundy came to Nebraska with his parents who homesteaded near West Union, Neb., in 1882. He attended rural schools and taught Custer county district school No. 189 in 1903 and 1904. He was married to Laura Etta Anderson on Oct. 31, 1894, and they made their home on a Loup county ranch.

Was Mayor Of Sargent.

A self-educated engineer, he pioneered Nebraska water power development with the construction of the Lundy Hydro-Electric power plant on the Middle Loup river.

Also active in politics and civic affairs, he was mayor of Sargent, Neb., in 1920 and 1921 and was elected to the house of representatives from the 7th district in 1921 and 1923. During that time he served on the highway committee.

Mr. Lundy was a member and former director of the Nebraska State Good Roads association and was credited with being the father of U. S. highway No. 83 north and south through the state.

Greeter at Capitol.

Mr. Lundy served as sergeant-at-arms for 12 legislative sessions between 1925 and 1947. He also held the post of official "greeter" at the state capitol from 1937 to 1939. He lived in Lincoln for 20 years and was a member and past grand of I.O.O.F., Lincoln lodge No. 162, and the Modern Woodmen of America.

Surviving are his wife, Laura E.; one son, Albro, Los Angeles, Calif.; three daughters, Mrs. Sadie Pulliam, Sargent, Mrs. Alpha Goodwin, Greenville, Calif., and Mrs. Leila Mathis, Long Beach, Calif.; two brothers, Ben, Broken Bow, and Vinton, Mystic, Ia., and one sister, Ada Collins, New York City.

Desire For Peace Leads To Extremes

Bishop Declares In New Year's Message

Since the end of the war, men obsessed by the nightmare of another war and anxiety for peace have alternated between two extremes—"If you desire peace, prepare for war" and "peace at any costs."

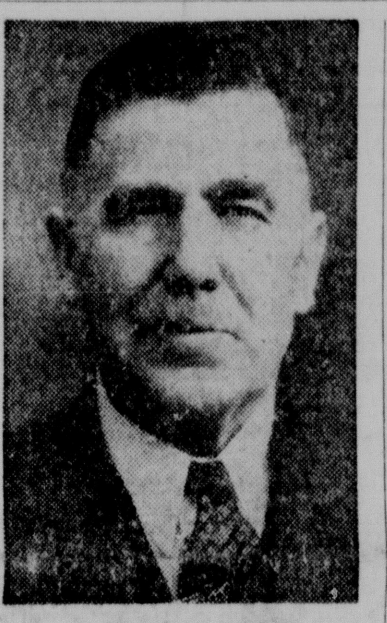

Both groups want peace, while both endanger it, Bishop Louis B. Kucera of the Lincoln diocese of the Catholic church said in a New Year's day sermon at St. Mary's Cathedral.

"One arouses distrust. The other promotes a security open for aggression and oppression of weak nations. Both extremes compromise the cause of peace."

Both groups want peace, while both endanger it, Bishop Kucera said. "Its desire is practical and realistic. Its immediate aim is to remove, or at least to mitigate, causes of tension and moral and social conditions which aggravate the danger of war."

"The Christian will for peace is strong as steel, but its temper differs from mere humanitarian sentiment, which detests war only because of its horrors and atrocities," the bishop explained. "The Christian will not attempt to save himself at the expense of others. He will not create conditions of peace which cause injustices to others."

"The desire for peace is a matter of Divine law," Bishop Kucera said. "The defense of this law is an obligation for all nations as a whole, who have the duty not to abandon a nation attacked."

Demos Band To Remake House Rules

GOP Claims Dixiecrat Overture To Form Anti-Administration Bloc

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Squabbling house democrats gathered for a party huddle today as republican leaders reported "overtures" from southerners who want them to team up in a fight against proposed rules changes.

The changes, suggested by some democratic leaders to prevent just such Dixie-GOP coalitions from blocking administration bills in the rules committee, probably will come up for heated discussion at the party meeting called for 1 p. m. (CST).

The rules committee has the job of deciding when legislation should go to the floor for debate after approval by other house committees. It can pigeon-hole certain measures and pretty effectively keep them from getting voted on at all.

At present it takes signed approval by 218 house members to bypass the rules group.

Republicans held their caucus yesterday and named Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, as their candidate for speaker—a job which is sure to go to Sam Rayburn of Texas because of the democratic majority.

Martin was speaker in the 80th congress. His post in the 81st will be republican floor leader.

United States To Recognize Korean Nation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States announced today it will extend full recognition to the government of the Korean republic and raise the American mission there to embassy rank.

The recognition will, in effect, formalize the relationship which exists now between the United States and the Korean government under Syngman Rhee.

Firth Couple's Baby First Arrival Of '49 In Lincoln

Arriving at 4:40 a. m. Saturday, a son born to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin K. Auman of Firth at St. Elizabeth hospital was Lincoln's first baby of the new year. He weighed seven pounds, 15 ounces. It was the couple's eighth child.

Second birth of 1949 came at 5:30 a. m. at Bryan Memorial hospital, where a girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Max Thames, 4610 Pioneer. The baby weighed six pounds, four and one-half ounces.

Last birth in 1948 reported by city hospitals was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Butler of Crete, at 10:37 p. m. Friday at Lincoln General hospital. The baby weighed seven pounds, 14 ounces.

All three babies, and mothers (as well as the fathers) are doing fine, according to hospital attendants.

In Omaha the infant new year and a baby boy born at Clark-son hospital almost arrived simultaneously.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carlyle of Omaha 10 seconds after midnight.

Alliance Building Up

ALLIANCE—(AP)—Construction permits in Alliance nearly doubled in 1948 compared with the previous year. The 1948 total was $632,840, the 1947 amount $362,195. Increased construction of single and multiple family dwellings helped boost the total.

Tumble Injures Skaters

Judy Amen, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Amen, 2610 South Twelfth, received severe knee bruises Friday after falling while ice skating on a pond at Fourteenth and Lake streets.

She was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital for treatment.

Election Top Event Of 1948 To Most Lincolnites

Most Lincolnites agree with the press services that the election of President Harry S. Truman was the biggest event of 1948, a year's end survey by The Star indicated.

Although the election was overwhelmingly chosen, many other events were given high ratings.

Other answers gave top rating to such events as the signing of the ERP bill, the death of Ghandi, the war in China, the record food crop and the work of the highway committee.

Almost all Lincoln ministers said that the most important event in the religious field was the convening of the first assembly of the World Council of Churches.

The question asked was, "What was the most important event of 1948?" Here are some of the answers:

Gov. Val Peterson—"One of the outstanding events . . . was the service performed by 35 citizens who worked under the direction of Chairman George W. Holmes to prepare the most thorough study of our road problems ever made."

Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons—"From the standpoint of recognizing citizenship, of the future well being of our state and of the stability of our government, I place among the most important events the inauguration of the Boys' and Girls' county government program by the American Legion and auxiliary."

Mayor Clarence Miles—"The election of Truman was the outstanding event because it was so surprising."

Bishop Louis Kucera—"The election of President Truman, who had the courage of his convictions."

In the international field, Bishop Kucera said the most important thing was "the spiritual force displayed by the Pope against the atheistic forces of communism."

Rev. John Douglas Clyde—"The signing of the E.R.P. bill by President Truman. The Marshall plan, even with all its imperfections, is such a definite gesture of our well meaning to the rest of the world."

State Director of Agriculture Rufus M. Howard—"It may not be spectacular, but the production of another outstanding crop meant more to every citizen of the United States than any other event."

R. E. Campbell—"The election of Harry Truman. There was nothing in the news that was more dynamic—more of a complete surprise."

Rev. C. Vin White—"The political race which ended with Truman's election and its indication that the so-called middle class no longer exists as a political power."

City Personnel Director Ray Ramsay—"The election of Truman. The event had the proper elements of preparation, build-up, surprise and suspense needed to make a first-rate news story."

Rev. Lowell C. Bryant—"The announcement of Ghandi's death. In his 78 years, Ghandi probably gave more spiritual leadership and contributed more to the welfare of humanity than any man since the time of Christ."

Municipal Judge Edward C. Fisher—"The unexpected election of the president."

Dr. Charles H. Arnold—"The apparent fall of the Chinese national government."

Two Thayer Commissioners Resign Posts

(Special to The Star)

HEBRON—Thayer County Commissioners H. B. Rossmiller of Deshler and Art Anderson of Hebron have resigned at the request of the county Farm Bureau organization.

Ellsworth Nippert, acting as spokesman for nearly 75 men who presented the request to the commissioners at the court house, listed several grievances among the resignation. Included was the alleged failure of the commissioners to follow the Schroeder mail route improvement bill.

County Attorney W. O. Baldwin said Saturday Bernald Wiedel of Hebron and Albert Miller of Hubbell have been appointed to fill the vacancies created by the resignations.

Louisville Man Is Killed By Falling Tree

LOUISVILLE—(AP)—Albert Murray, 54, was killed Friday when a tree he was chopping fell on him.

Sheriff Tom Solomon said the prominent farmer was alone at the time of the accident.

Survivors include the widow and a daughter, Mrs. Arnold Meisinger of Plattsmouth.

40 Years In Office

OMAHA—(AP)—New Years day was also a birthday—his 82nd—for Robert Smith, clerk of the District court. January also marks the 40th anniversary of his taking over the District court clerkship.

Former Lincoln Girl Married In California

The marriage of Miss Lois Adele Birmingham, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Birmingham of Atkinson, to Harold Bordner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Boyd Bordner of San Pedro, Cal., formerly of Nebraska, was solemnized late Sunday afternoon, December 26, at the First Presbyterian church in San Pedro. Arrangements of scarlet poinsettias, white, pedestal candelabra, were placed against a background of lighted evergreen trees for the ceremony, the lines of which were read by the Rev. Mr. Birmingham, father of the bride.

The wedding music was played by Richard Ellsasser, organist, who also accompanied Miss Louise Winters, who sang "I Love You" and "L'Amour, Toujours L'Amour," preceding the service.

The maid of honor and her sister's only attendant was Miss Rachel Birmingham, who was frocked in chartreuse taffeta designed in the princess mode. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations and feathered carnations.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, James C. Birmingham, and wore a gown of white lace and marquisette. A portrait neckline and long fitted sleeves tapering to points over the hands fashioned the torso bodice of lace, and the circular skirt of marquisette was gathered into extreme fullness. Her illusion veil was held by a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and gladioli.

Stanley Newland served Mr. Bordner as best man, and seating the guests were James Wood and Joel Birmingham.

A reception was held in the parlors of the church immediately following the ceremony, and later in the evening the couple left for a honeymoon trip to San Francisco. Mrs. Bordner wore for traveling a knitted suit in the coral shade with grey accessories.

Mr. Bordner and his bride will reside at 1057 South Western avenue in Los Angeles, where the bridegroom is associated with an architectural firm as an interior designer. He is a former student of the University of Southern California, and during the war served three years with the army air force, including two years overseas duty.

The bride attended Nebraska Wesleyan university school of music and is continuing her organ studies with Richard Ellsasser in Los Angeles, where she is assistant organist at the Wilshire Boulevard Methodist church.

Miss Ellinor Suhr Bride Of Ivan Sunderman

MRS. IVAN SUNDERMAN

Lighted cedar trees and arrangements of evergreens decorated the chancel of Trinity Lutheran church, Thursday evening, December 30, for the marriage of Miss Ellinor Suhr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Suhr of Garland, to Ivan O. Sunderman, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Sunderman. The lines of the 7:30 o'clock ceremony were read by the Rev. F. Worthman, assisted by the Rev. William J. Roessler, in the presence of five hundred guests.

The wedding music, which included "Liebestraum," Handel's "Pastorale," and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," was played by O. H. Sunderman, organist, father of the bridegroom. Mr. Sunderman also accompanied the Trinity Lutheran choir which sang, "Beautiful Savior," and "Abide, O Dearest Jesus," and Prof. Karl Haase directed the Immanuel Lutheran ladies' choir in "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," and "Lead Me Lord." Bach's pastorale, "Sheep May Safely Graze," was used as the processional.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Naomi Suhr, who wore a period gown of rose satin designed with a fitted tunic bodice. Wearing identical gowns of satin were the bridesmaids, Miss Dolores Schulze, cousin of the bride, and Miss Lorena Greipentrog, in cedar green, and Miss Margaret Suhr, sister of the bride, and Miss Ruth Rhode, cousin of the bride, in the gold tone. The junior bridesmaids, Miss Betty Suhr, sister of the bride, and Miss Gayle Sunderman, niece of the bridegroom, were frocked alike in aqua taffeta. All the attendants were braided headbands to match their gowns, and carried colonial nosegay bouquets.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of traditional ivory satin. A deep yoke of lace was framed by a bertha collar of satin, and long fitted sleeves

HOW LUCKY IS "13"?

Year's-end, week's-end, and honeymoon's-end all arrived simultaneously. Which is to say that the pot's boiling.

Thirteen liberal republican members of the United States senate picked on the closing day of the year to announce publicly their determination to unhorse Senator Bob Taft of Ohio as the party's spokesman in the role of chairman of the senate policy committee. The announcement did not faze the Ohioan. He took it without uplifted eyebrows, a smile on his face, a confident assertion he would continue to do the talking for the party on the senate floor. His opponents agreed upon young, handsome, energetic Henry Cabot Lodge, jr., as the man to succeed Taft.

The name Lodge means a lot in New England, especially in Massachusetts. The country hasn't forgotten another Henry Cabot Lodge—immaculate in grooming, an austere iceberg in contacts, an orthodox republican of the old school, who sat in the senate for years and is remembered chiefly for the leading role which he played in scuttling the League of Nations. It was to his pretentious Washington apartment that the enemies of the League of Nations trailed on a Sabbath morn, there concocted the "Round Robin." There is a great gulf between the political views of young Lodge and his distinguished forebear, but its extent is yet to be measured.

If we had been picking an opponent for Taft seriously, we would have come west to put a hand on the shoulder of Oregon's Wayne Morse, a fighter of real parts when he is in the mood, more consistently liberal than Lodge but a long way from the old liberal group that waged a memorable fight within the party ranks in the '20s—a group headed by the late George Norris, the late "Bob" La Follette, and the late "Bill" Borah. The trouble with this new liberal group in the republican party is that never has it seemed to actually get its teeth into anything. Out of all the opportunities which the republican-dominated 80th congress offered it, the records fail to disclose even a single instance where it made anything out of the materials which it had in its hands. It has seemed to be unduly concerned about the matter of party regularity.

Now 13 men, good and true, have crossed the Rubicon in another rebellion. They are predominately of one region—northeast states—New England and the North Atlantic. Five of them come from New England, two from the North Atlantic, two from the Pacific coast and three from the Dakotas and Minnesota. That's as near as the midwest—the spawning ground of agrarian revolt, of Populism, of Bull Moose fervor—gets to it. This new bloc might be better off if it counted up to 12—one better off if there were 14—for in numbers there is strength and before they can expect to accomplish much it will be necessary to pick up a sizeable number of recruits.

The developing fight is not academic. It could become of practical consequence to take on the importance of a historic milestone. Within the party, feeling runs strong. One of the republican mainstays in the newspaper field, the Chicago Tribune, found its publisher, Col. Robert McCormick, violently erupting, spouting these words: "Re-election of Senator Taft as chairman of the republican policy committee in the senate seems assured. He will be needed. He has not only the best mind in the senate, but the political honesty that the new minority in congress must display if it is to win back the esteem needlessly sacrificed in the last campaign. The campaign against Senator Taft was conducted by so-called liberals in the party. Actually, they are democrats who got into office on the republican ticket, or who embraced New Deal frauds after they were elected. The impudence of these republican liberals, as they like to call themselves, would be unbelievable if it had not been demonstrated before" . . . so on for a half a column of biting words.

It must be delightful to be politically married to Colonel McCormick.

Yet he speaks for a large segment of his party—its conservative group—and he does raise a point in the preservation of the two-party system that cannot be brushed aside with light disdain. The country has about as much use for two liberal parties as it has for a couple of noses, useful and necessary as noses are.

The big show along the Potomac gets under way in the opening days of the new year in Washington when the new congress is sworn in, and the republicans were not alone in their misery. Former Star staffman W. H. (Bill) Lawrence reported in the New York Times that two democratic southerners, Eastman of Mississippi and Ellender of Louisiana, probably will be deprived of all federal patronage for bolting the party ticket, for giving active support to the Dixiecrat movement. It was not settled yet. The democrats were caucusing secretly. They were faced with the prospect that old men largely—men well past 70 years of age—under the rules of seniority would be in charge of the most important committees. Most of them come from the South, and most of them are conservatives.

The 80th congress winked out to make room for a successor—the 81st—and, no tears were shed over its passing. Rarely has mortality politically been higher. In the senate nearly a third of the seats in the 81st congress will be occupied by newcomers; in the house a fourth of the entire membership fell in the November storm, in the primaries earlier, or as a result of voluntary retirement. Senate democrats elected aged Kenneth McKellar (he has been poking newsmen around for calling him "old") to the post of president pro-tem, largely honorary, largely empty, but good for one sleek automobile furnished by Uncle Sam. The president pro-tem presides over senate deliberations when the vice-president is not available, which anyone familiar with Kentucky's Barkley, fully knows will not be often.

Now for a quickie around the country . . . The driver of a huge bus over the Overland trail through Wyoming smashed into a herd of antelope . . . Children in the Wyoming state institutions feasted happily on antelope steaks . . . At the closing session of the senate of the 80th congress, paying graceful tribute to Senator Barkley, a slip of the tongue caused Senator Wherry to promote Barkley to the White House . . . An amazing pair, Barkley and Wherry . . . staunch political enemies, the two are warm personal friends . . . Americans intent on celebrating the New Year by going places and doing things are estimated to have shelled out $50 per . . . a top price for a headache . . . Snow and rain lashed the seaboard at year's end—the vast interior for the most part had clear skies . . . but from the Atlantic to Pacific the closing weeks of 1948 had given a rugged account of themselves . . . Down in Oklahoma rich oilmen raised a sizeable pot to explore the state's water resources in the interests of the conservation program . . . Who says that oil and water do not mix . . . President Truman had out a paring knife . . . The chief executive was getting in his licks on the budget which he will submit to congress . . . He had cut until a possible deficit had dwindled to less than a mere two billions . . . North Carolina's venerable Bob Doughton, who will head the house ways and means committee, said his chief concern was to balance the budget . . . Palm Springs was still quaking, nothing new for the gay resort.

An equally swift quickie 'round the world . . . Too good to be true, China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was reported to be pondering his resignation . . . There was a string attached . . . A martyr's role as compensation for a new government . . . Yugoslav's Tito never heard of Horace Greeley, but the injunction: "Go West, Young Man!" still was good . . . Russia had cut 1949's trade with Yugoslavia, Moscow announced, to an eighth of the 1948 volume . . . That was using the slipper on Joe's bad boy . . . Or was Joe using the slipper on himself? . . . Yugoslavia produces a lot of minerals Russia needs . . . Quiet had descended on Palestine in the Negev desert and in the Dutch East Indies . . . Temporarily people breathed easier. The United Nations had a year to get done what it failed to do in 1948 . . . People should not expect too much in the slow, punishing struggle for peace . . . Men can make war, but it seems only the spirit of God can make peace.

Nebraska fared badly in the championship cornhusking contest; did better in the "tall tale" derby. Its entrant, Edward S. Kirkak, hailing from Comstock on the Middle Loup, qualified with a story of experiences in a Nebraska cyclone. He mowed it down. Note: Cyclone on the Great Plains refers more accurately to the unpleasantness known as a tornado. But what's a matter of a proper word shading in the battle for the tallest tale?

CEASE FIRE AGREED TO IN KASHMIR

NEW DELHI, India —(AP)—A cease fire was ordered in Kashmir tonight. A government official said both India and Pakistan agreed to the cease fire and truce provided in a United Nations resolution.

Firing in the princely state was ordered halted at 11:59 p. m. (12:59 p. m., CST).

The official said an agreement was reached also on principles of a Kashmir plebiscite to decide whether the princely state, largely Moslem, should affiliate permanently with Hindu-majority India or Moslem Pakistan. Such voting would be carried out under United Nations supervision.

MOSES ABRAHAM WEAVER.

CALLAWAY—Funeral services for Moses Abraham Weaver, 88, who died Dec. 9, were held Sunday, Dec. 12, at 10 a. m. at the Callaway funeral home. Surviving are his wife, Anna; five daughters, Mrs. Mary Jane Lincoln, and Mrs. Nora Ahrend, both of Callaway; Mrs. Emma Lou Baker, Burley, Ida; Mrs. Renna May Shipley, and Miss Anna Belle Weaver, both of Callaway; two sons, Walter of Oconto and Olin, Kansas City; three brothers, 22 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Murder Gets Allowed

BY ROBERT SIDNEY BOWEN

Chapter 25.

"And that, I think, is that," I murmured, and picked up my drink.

Paula took her lovely eyes off the retreating figure of Parrish and turned them on me.

"As your prospective wife, darling," she said, "I suppose I shouldn't butt in on your business affairs. But might I ask if there goes your killer?"

"Ever since you've taken up this crazy business you have no business in, you've made me a very lonely something," she said. "Did you know that?"

And then with one of the patent-applied-for Paula Grant quick changes, she said with a sigh, "Okay, okay. Let's talk about you, then. What does the other guy look like?"

"Your fat, old head, darling. The lumps. Did you forget to lead with your fists again?"

"I couldn't; they were tied!" I blurted out.

"Why were your hands tied? Who tied them? When did this happen? And what did you do about it?"

"Hold it, hold it!" I tried to stop her with raised hands. "I don't know. For sure, anyway. Look, you want to help me with this thing?"

"Help you with what thing? Parrish is your killer, isn't he? Well, why don't you?"

"If you will only shut that beautiful mouth a moment, Beautiful!" I pleaded. "Now, what did you and Parrish have to say to each other?"

"None of your business! And I think he's rather fascinating, even if he isn't good-looking."

"So you won't help?" I said wearily.

"Maybe I could help if you'd tell me all about it," she said. "Whatever it is all about."

I shook my head.

"It would take too long," I parried. "But when it's all cleaned up, sure!"

"Thanks!" she bit off, and covered me with her hand.

"Sorry, Pal," she said softly.

"What about," I said. "If anything."

"Well, it was mostly this and that," she said. "He was busting a gutset to be polite, but I could tell he had a lot on his mind."

"He's got more than that now, I think," I murmured. "Did he tell you about Cardeur?"

"Yes," she replied with a little shiver.

"Tried to pump you about me, huh?" I murmured.

"Yes," Paula nodded. "Very anxious to know what progress you'd made. Just as though you'd told me. But he certainly had his nerve thinking. I mean, even if you had."

"Speaking of nothing at all," I put it casually, "where were you last night around eleven-thirty?"

There, it was out, and I certainly felt an awful cheap fool for having asked it. But I guess Paula thought I wanted to know because maybe I had phoned her at that time. Anyway, she didn't bristle, or jump at any second meanings.

"At the movies with Beth Price," she said. "Call her and check, if you like. Where were you?"

"I would throw boomerangs! In a room," I grunted.

"Interesting! What room? And where?"

It was no use trying the quick switch to another topic. It just wouldn't work.

"I don't know," I told her honestly. "I was out. Unconscious, I mean."

"Oh, is there a difference?" She shot it at me tight-lipped.

I was tired, and my head ached, and I had too many things to do besides battle with Paula. Which would actually have been fun at any other time. And so I didn't voice any protest when she gathered up her things and pushed back her chair.

"You need to be alone. Do call me when the balloon goes up. I love to throw rocks." "Bye, Gerry."

In the lobby I went to the phone booths, got me a Manhattan directory, and took it into one of the booths with me. I sat down on the little stool and took out a slip of paper on which I had copied down from memory six of some ten addresses I had seen in the departed DeFoe's little black book. Then I went to work.

In the next half hour I had made six calls, and been connected on each one. To each person who took my call I asked the same question. I got five answers in a row that didn't help me at all. On the sixth and last call I got the answer I wanted. I thanked the person at the other end of the wire, hung up, and surrendered my booth to an impatient fat woman who tried to reduce me to a grease spot on the floor with a single look. But I felt so good I grinned at her, and tipped my hat.

"Madam," I said, "why are people born liars?"

"Young man, you're drunk!" she snapped, and almost caught four of my fingertips as she slammed the two-part door shut.

Iowan Killed in Crash At North Platte

... '48 Toll Is 266

NORTH PLATTE—(AP)—Nebraska's 266th auto death of 1948—and apparently its last—came in a truck-motorcycle crash near here late Friday.

The victim was identified as Kenneth O. Wertz, 26, of Fort Dodge, Ia.

Seriously injured in the same crash, according to State Safety Patrolman M. J. Davis, was Arnold W. Sylvester, Portland, Ore.

Davis said the driver of the truck was Chester Teeter, Greeley, Colo. He told the patrolman that as he started to pass the motorcycle on which Wertz and Sylvester were riding, it suddenly swung into the path of his truck.

The truck driver said he believed the men were going back after a cap one of them had lost.

Shell Creek Dam Plan Draws Fire

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The bureau of reclamation's proposal that a dam be built on Shell creek five miles northwest of Schuyler had drawn some criticism Friday from the Shell Creek Flood Control committee.

The proposed dam is part of the bureau's broad plan for lower Platte basin development.

The Shell creek phase was discussed at a meeting of the committee, organized in 1945 to promote flood control for the Shell creek valley.

Ted Jepson of Platte Center presided and representatives attended from Columbus, Schuyler, Lindsay, Newman Grove and vicinities.

The bureau's plans "would only hinder our program," a spokesman declared, "while providing little actual benefit. We want to go ahead with our flood control program and this would delay or possibly destroy what we have been working for."

67 School Districts Receive State Aid

State Supt. Wayne Reed reported that the annual distribution of state aid to weak school districts this year amounted to $15,103.

Sixty-seven districts in 16 counties received aid this year under provisions of the act passed in 1907.

Reed pointed out that this fund is the only provision Nebraska makes for equalization aid to schools.

A district eligible to receive this aid is paid state moneys in an amount equal to the difference between the estimated receipts and the estimated expenditures for the year. However, the law prescribes maximum expenditures, depending on the number of children in the district between the ages of seven and sixteen years of age.

Counties and amounts:

Arthur, $148; Blaine, $279; Brown, $3,073; Cherry, $2,196; Custer, $10; Dawes, $393; Garfield, $722; Greeley, $406; Holt, $140; Keya Paha, $1,343; Loup, $312; McPherson, $1,159; Morrill, $205; Rock, $633; Sheridan, $625; Sioux, $3,455.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Happy new year! lightly spoken: Mended be are heart that's broken; Soothed the ache that lies within; May the year bring comfort in.

Happy new year! Friendship's greeting: Through the day we're oft repeating. May the Lord the strength renew For the tasks that all must do.

Happy new year! and the wishing: Is for luck when friends go fishing; For whatever game they choose, Good fun even though they lose.

Happy new year! but tomorrow: Should there follow hours of sorrow, God grant courage to endure Hurts that only faith can cure. (Copyright, 1948, Edgar A. Guest.)

Better Quality Eggs Planned By Producers Will Ask Grading Law To Replace Candler

First steps were taken to improve Nebraska's low standard egg production and insure purchasers at retail the grade of eggs advertised, according to Rufus Howard, director of agriculture.

At a meeting attended by about 15 representatives of produce firms, farm organizations, retailers, hatcherymen, poultry improvement association, college of agriculture and state federal bureaus, a committee was named to have drafted legislation to improve the state egg-candler law.

The proposed bill would remove the candler requirement in the present law and substitute graded eggs at the retail level with all ungraded eggs to be so labeled. This, they contend, will assure the consumer of quality eggs of the standard they desire to buy.

The present law is impractical, those attending the meeting agreed, according to Howard. He pointed out that egg buyers in country stores often buy dozens of cases of eggs from purchasers on Saturday and do not have sufficient time to candler. They are sold immediately, to prevent spoilage, to truckers who rush them to wholesale markets.

The proposal to have the eggs graded, and the grade labeled on the eggs on retailers' shelves, will insure proper testing before sale, they contend. Farmers and produce buyers, to insure top prices for their eggs, will be given incentive to grade eggs before sale, the committee believes.

Eggs were a major source of income to farmers of the state last year bringing in an estimated $52,000,000. In addition to making the production and marketing of eggs more profitable, the committee believes the proposed law would put greater emphasis on improvement of present poultry flocks.

Nebraska farmers, the weed specialist said, used more 2-4-D in their cornfields than on any other crop. More than 290,000 acres, or approximately 4 per cent of the corn acreage planted, was treated for weed control.

More than 125,000 acres of winter wheat were sprayed, 35,000 by plane. Numerous farmers reported harvesting of their small grain crop would have been impossible if they had not sprayed it with 2-4-D.

A breakdown of the acreage in Nebraska treated for weed elimination: Oats 78,000; barley and rye 16,000; grain sorghum 3,200; pastures, waterways, rights-of-way etc., 40,000. Approximately 450 miles of irrigation canals and 4,000 miles of fence rows also were sprayed with 2-4-D.

Patrolman Aids Gordon Slaying Investigation

GORDON—(AP)—Sgt. Jack Knudtson of the state safety patrol Saturday was aiding in the investigation of a slaying after car trouble delayed his entrance in the case.

Knudtson left Lincoln for Gordon Tuesday to investigate the fatal shooting of Dr. Edward D. Flynn, Gordon dentist, here last week.

At Neligh, Knudtson said, his car stalled and he had to go on by train. He arrived here Thursday night.

The patrol sergeant said he is getting acquainted with the Flynn case. Several local men have been questioned, he revealed, but no lie detector tests have been given.

Local authorities said fair progress is being made on the case.

Falls City Pastor Accepts Iowa Post

FALLS CITY—(AP)—The Rev. Ben W. Sinderson, pastor of the First Christian church here since July, 1946, has resigned, effective Feb. 1, to take a charge at New Bedford, Ia.

'88 Blizzard Club Plans 2 Meetings

The January 12th '88 blizzard club will hold anniversary meetings in Lincoln and Omaha at which time the future of the club will be determined.

The reception of the book, "In All Its Fury," and proposed depiction of the '88 Blizzard in the Capitol building foyer has given added incentive for the club's continuation, its president, W. H. O'Gara said.

The Lincoln meeting will be Jan. 11, 2 p. m., at the YMCA. The Omaha group will hold a dinner meeting Jan. 12, 6 p. m., at the Omaha YWCA.

2-4-D Used On 500,000 Acres In State In '48

More than a half million acres of Nebraska cropland were sprayed by farmers with 2, 4-D for weed control in 1948, according to a survey by weed specialists at the University of Nebraska.

Extension Weed Specialist J. D. Furrer said the 550,000 acres sprayed was an eightfold increase over 1947. Most county agricultural agents believe the chemical will be used on an even larger scale in 1949.

Furrer said probably no other chemical for agricultural use has gained in popularity so rapidly as 2, 4-D. Since it became available to the public in 1945, many agriculturists consider it the chemical the greatest advancement in crop production since the introduction of hybrid corn.

Nebraska farmers, the weed specialist said, used more 2-4-D in their cornfields than on any other crop. More than 290,000 acres, or approximately 4 per cent of the corn acreage planted, was treated for weed control.

More than 125,000 acres of winter wheat were sprayed, 35,000 by plane. Numerous farmers reported harvesting of their small grain crop would have been impossible if they had not sprayed it with 2-4-D.

Fighting Is Over In Java

Dutch Announce End Of Firing: Sumatra Cleanup To Follow

BATAVIA, Java—(AP)—Dutch spokesmen announced today that part of the Indonesian war—the Java phase—is over.

The cleanup in Sumatra is scheduled to follow.

Dutch firing in Java was reported to have ceased without fanfare at the end of the old year, as the Netherlands promised security council in Paris Wednesday. The Dutch did not proclaim the cease fire order, saying this was not considered necessary.

Further military action was threatened by Dutch Lt. Gen. Simon Spoor against any rebellious elements.

"Though the opponent has been beaten in a military sense," Spoor told his troops in a New Year's speech, "the duty now devolves on you to complete the result by eliminating rebellious elements until peace and security have been obtained."

The opponent is the Indonesian Republic, which once claimed about a third of territory of Indonesia (The Netherlands East Indies). Dutch troops have captured all of its major cities and economically important areas in the campaign launched Dec. 19.

The Dutch announcement of security council said hostilities would cease in Sumatra a day or two after the end in Java, that is, by Monday.

Uniform Insurance Rules To Be Discussed

Discussions will be held with Bernard Stone, state insurance commissioner, Monday, in the proposal for a compact of midwest states for uniform insurance regulations. A preliminary meeting was held here several weeks ago by state representatives to discuss conflicts.

The conference is being arranged by the Council of State Governments who are spearheading the move for the compact. Nebraska representative on the council, C. Petrus Petersen, will be joined by officials of the national headquarters at the meeting with Stone and his staff.

Ailments Beseet Bowls

MEDICAL REPORTS FOR BOWL TEAMS SHOW KEY PERFORMERS SUFFERING

NEW YORK—(AP)—This is it, Football Bowl day—a day formerly given over exclusively to New Year's resolutions and painful recovery from over-enthusiastic celebration.

In 16 scattered bowls down where the climate is supposedly warmer nowadays, football brawn and brain from 32 schools square off in do-or-die for the institution. Not to mention a sizeable bale of the folding stuff that helps keep athletic associations out of the red.

So, now that "howlitis" has infected a goodly portion of the American sports populace, medical reports from the front lines takes on added importance.

One guy gets a stomach ache, which is especially bad for North Carolina and particularly for the player himself—All America Halfback Charlie Justice.

JUSTICE STOMACH ACHES.

Choo-choo Charlie is to the Tar Heels what the main spring is to the watch, but he says tummy or no, he'll be in there against Oklahoma in the Sugar bowl before 81,000 at New Orleans.

On the other hand, Coach Charles (Bud) Wilkinson of Oklahoma says his players are physically fit, but a mental case. They took five days off from practice to celebrate Christmas, and with such a tough game coming up the coach says that was a bum present for Santa to leave in the sock. He isn't mad at the odds-makers, however, for N. C. has been made a three point favorite.

Probable starting lineups:
OKLAHOMA—(AP)—NO. CAROLINA
Owens, LE; Weine, RB; Paine, LT; Highsmith, RB; Burris, LG; Stegman, RB; Tullman, RG; Hazelwood, RB; Mayes, RB; Cox, RB; Mitchell, RB; Knox, RB; Royal, RB; Justice, RB; Thomas, RB; Kennedy, RB; Greathouse, RB.

BURSON ARM SORE.

Out in Pasadena, where all this bowl fever began 46 years ago California and Northwestern clash before 92,500 in the granddaddy of them all. A quick check in the infirmary there discloses all hands fairly healthy but one arm questionable. That is the passing arm of Don Burson, Northwestern quarterback. Burson hasn't passed in workouts all week as a favor to the sore flipper.

Pacific coast football, which has taken its lumps from Illinois and Michigan in the last two Rose Bowl affairs, would get a healthy boost if California knocks off the Big Nine representative. Northwestern has been rated six or seven points over the Bears.

Probable lineups:
Northwestern Pos. California
Zavloff, LE; Cunningham, RB; Sawie, LT; Frassetto, RB; Nemeth, LG; Franz, RB; Sakulian, LG; Bos, RB; F. Day, RG; Baker, RB; Cernoch, RB; Van Deren, RB; Hagemann, RB; Erickson, RB; Jochembreuer, RB; Main, RB; Tunnicliffe, RB; Murakowski, RB; Jensen, RB.

GOODWIN CARTILAGE TORN.
Another big assemblage of 69,000 will watch Oregon and Southern Methodist in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, S.M.U. even without the services of Center Fred Goodwin, is a 6½-point choice over Oregon, co-champions with California of the coast conference. Goodwin has a torn cartilage.

Probable starting lineups:
OREGON—S. METHODIST
Gaza, LE; Polson, RB; Dotar, LG; Ehrbridge, RB; Meland, LG; Lewis, RB; Sklund, LG; Wood, RB; Crobat, RG; Halliday, RB; Stanton, RB; Hamberger, RB; Williams, RB; Blakely, RB; Van Brocklin, RB; Walker, RB; Bell, RB; Page, RB; Sanders, RB; McKissack, RB.

The Orange Bowl at Miami, where 60,300 will watch Georgia and Texas meet for the first time, is another of the day's major engagements. Hospital reports from Miami show all regulars presently in fair trim, but Cliff Hopp, Georgia reserve fullback, limping from a pulled leg muscle. A flu epidemic and minor injuries beset Texas, but only reserve End Jimmy Watson appears doubtful on the playing list.

All-Eastern State At Madison Square

Cigar Bowl Holds Only Night Game

TAMPA, Fla. —(INS)— More than 18,000 fans will assemble in Tampa's Cigar bowl Saturday night for the football clash between two of the country's finest "little" college teams—Missouri Valley of Marshall, Mo., and St. Thomas of St. Paul, Minn.

Decision to hold the game at night was based on a desire to avoid competition with broadcasts of major bowl games elsewhere during the day.

The victory of Missouri Valley won nine of their 10 games during the regular 1948 campaign, while the Minnesotans won seven out of eight.

New Rules For Preps

... Grid Changes

CHICAGO —(AP)— The National Federation of State High School Athletic associations ended a four-day annual meeting Friday night by adopting five major football rule changes.

Under the new code these rules will be in effect:

1.—If a foul is called during a fumble or a backward pass there will be no automatic loss of the ball.

2.—An out-of-bound kickoff will not be recalled. Instead the ball will be awarded the defending team (a) where it goes out of bounds, or (b) 10 yards behind the restraining line, whichever is more advantageous. In the majority of cases, this would give the defending team the ball on its own 40-yard line.

3.—On a running play in which a foul is called, the penalty will be measured from the spot where the ball is declared dead, thus allowing the distance gained.

4.—A five yard penalty will be assessed if an ineligible receiver catches a pass behind, or in, the line of scrimmage. If he is hit by the ball but does not catch it, there will be no penalty. Previously, there was a 15-yard penalty for either case.

5.—During a return kick (when the receiver of a kick punts it back instead of keeping it in possession) if a foul is committed the penalty normally will be measured from the point where the return kick was made by the receiver, not from the point of the original kick.

Other Bowl pairings have Wake Forest and Baylor, Dixie Bowl, Birmingham; William and Mary versus Oklahoma A & M, Delta Bowl, Memphis; Nevada and Villanova, Harbor Bowl, San Diego; Calif. Missouri Valley and St. Thomas of Minnesota, Clear Bowl at Tampa; Drake and Arizona, Salt Bowl at Phoenix; West Virginia and Texas Mines, Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas; Colorado A & M and Occidental, Raisin Bowl at Fresno, Calif.; San Jose and Murray (Ky.) State, Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.; Prairie View and Wilberforce, Prairie Bowl at Houston; North Carolina A & T and Kentucky State, Vulcan Bowl at Birmingham.

Sid Gillman Keeps Busy

CINCINNATI, O. —(INS)— There was no rest in store today for Sid Gillman, University of Cincinnati's new football coach who arrived in the Queen City Friday from Minneapolis.

Gillman who left his job as West Point line coach to accept the Cincinnati job planned to take off immediately for Memphis to scout the New Year's Day Delta Bowl game between Oklahoma A. and M. and William and Mary.

Next week, Gillman and Athletic Director M. Charles Mileham will hit the west coast for the National Collegiate Athletic association conference at San Francisco.

In spite of all this activity, Gillman said: "My big worry right now is finding a home for my wife and four children. That's the number one project for the moment."

Mississippi State Signs New Coach

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—(AP)—Mississippi State college has a new head football coach—Arthur W. Morton, who Friday resigned as head coach at Virginia Military Institute.

Announcement of Morton's selection was made jointly by C. R. Noble, Mississippi State athletic director and Dr. Fred T. Mitchell, college president.

Morton, known as "Slick," succeeded Allyn McKeen who resigned after a season in which his team fared badly, losing to its ancient rival, University of Mississippi.

No Action By Gordon

... In Western Loop

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) president of the Western league, has reported that though two men have shown interest in bringing a league franchise to Wichita, Kas., neither has taken any new action.

Senator Johnson said he had heard nothing regarding a rumored new offer from Nathan Kobey of Denver. He said Kobey, a lawyer, did not exercise his rights to apply for Wichita's admission into the league by the Dec. 15 deadline "and I haven't heard from him since."

He said that Joe Gordon, second baseman for the Cleveland Indians, has been "flirting with the idea" of applying for a Wichita franchise but that "I haven't heard from him either."

Gordon, he said, has until Wednesday, Jan. 5, to make up his mind.

At Eugene, Ore., Gordon said he can make no definite announcement at this time.

Gordon did not make a trip east this week as he had planned but is trying to keep up with the situation by telephone.

His only statement was the time limit of January 5 is awfully close.

"I do not know whether I will be able to reach a definite decision within the time limit or not," Gordon said.

AAU Bars Sprint Ace

... Ewell Halted

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— An exhibit by the Amateur Athletic Union has ended the brilliant track and field career of Henry Norwood (Barney) Ewell, 31-year-old sprinter and broad jumper.

The swift Negro from Lancaster, Pa., second in the Olympic 100- and 200-meter dashes last summer, was declared a professional in a ruling announced Friday by Frank N. Percival, secretary of the Middle Atlantic district of the AAU.

The ruling, handed down by Judge Harry S. McDevitt, president of the Middle Atlantic group, came after the former Penn State star had accepted a furnished house as a gift from appreciative Lancaster citizens.

"I am living in the house and proud of it," said Ewell, who is now a highway construction supervisor in Pennsylvania. "I thought it was awfully nice to do what they did and it would certainly be ungrateful if I were to fail to acknowledge the gift or seek some way out."

"As far as I am concerned, the AAU ruling is final. I'll make no appeal."

Matman Tells Why He Chose Iowa Over NU

OMAHA —(AP)— An Omaha collegiate wrestler who has won a matful of titles for the University of Iowa and competed in the Olympic games has explained why he went to the Hawkeye school instead of to the University of Nebraska.

Joe Scarpello said "I went down to Lincoln to see Bernie Masterman (the Nebraska athletic director) after getting out of the army. He told me Nebraska had all the athletes it needed."

"I didn't have my hand out," he added. "I had the G.I. bill of rights to foot the bill. All I wanted was a welcome and maybe a part-time job. Bernie's answer kind of threw me for a loss, so I went to Iowa."

Japan Promised Baseball Series

TOKYO —(INS)— The new year brought hope of a global baseball world series to Japanese amateurs today.

The National Baseball congress has approved a $35,000 budget to underwrite a playoff series between western and eastern hemisphere non-professional champions.

The series would be played either at Tokyo's spacious State-side park, or at Manila, following the signing of a final peace treaty with Japan.

Flyweight Boxer Challenges Champ

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The National Boxing association announced Friday that Honolulu has made an offer to Rinty Monaghan, world's flyweight champion, to defend his title against Dado Marino in Hawaii.

The offer guarantees Monaghan $25,000 plus two round trip tickets to Hawaii.

The agreement also would contain a proviso that, should Marino win the title, he would agree to defend it in Belfast, Eire, within six months.

Marino is the NBA's No. 1 contender for the title.

Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Sports writer's diary for 1948-49, you can say it again in '49.

January—The bowl games via radio; basketball at the Garden; long wordy nights with the football and baseball coaches during the NCAA convention; District Attorney Hogan's blasts at the boxing writers' dinner. Cold and snow.

February—The gathering of the baseball clans for the New York dinner and show; flight to Florida; El Mono winning the Widener (for our dough); Citation winning the Flamingo; Coaltown winning; Willie Pep winning that odd fight in the rain at Miami. Mostly sunshine.

March —Touring the baseball training camps; the Athletics singing and shouting across the courtyard of their West Palm Beach hotel; Billy Southworth's frankness in telling about his team; Joe McCarthy's reticence; Eddie Dyer's smile; Gabe Paul's adroitness at check-grabbing; back to New York to catch the finish of the basketball tournaments.

April—Baseball season opens and optimistic predictions begin to tumble; northern racing season opens; weather better for staying indoors.

May—Olympic gymnastic tryouts—Penn State is a nice place but not when you'd rather be watching Citation's Derby; the PGA at St. Louis and the excitement of seeing Sammy Snead's drives and one of Ben Hogan's drives.

June —Tony Zale chopping down Rocky Graziano in Newark and the dazed look on Rocky's face afterward; seeing the Poughkeepsie Regatta with Ockie Krueger and a handful of army "brass" from the cockpit of a cruiser at the finish; the shells look like spiders when they come close; Louis-Walcott postmortem and finally hearing it by radio in Kalamazoo, Mich., where the NCAA baseball playoffs were going on.

July—Hot days at Princeton during the Olympic rowing tryouts and the way California and Jack Kelly took over Carnegie lake; giving the Olympic team a sendoff; everybody's amazement when the Ott-Drocher-Shotton managerial shift took place.

August —Vacation; Michigan's blue lakes and green woods; visiting the Lions, Rockets and Packers in training. If we ever retire, we want to take over Green Bay's training quarters at Rockwood lodge.

September—Long afternoons of tennis at Forest Hills; visiting Marcel Cerdan's training camp in the Catskills and watching Cerdan flatten Zale; the Yale barbecue and the Ivy League's introduction to Herman Liekman—or vice versa.

October—The rush to Boston for the Indians-Red Sox playoff; the World Series; waiting in the station for the train to Cleveland and just getting there in time; the noise and crowd in the victorious Indians' clubhouse and the apparently limitless supply of champagne provided by Bill Veeck. Getting a late start on football.

November—More football, and surprisingly good Saturday weather; a visit to North Carolina and just getting there in time; the Tar Heels; golf at Pinehurst.

December—The "Snow Bowl" pro football playoff at Philadelphia—nothing like it since the 1945 "Ice Bowl" at Cleveland; basketball at the Garden. Snow and cold.

PAUL FREDSTROM LEADS NE SCORERS IN EASY WIN OVER WEAK DISCOVERERS

BY GEORGE MILLER (Star Sports Staff Member)

NORTHEAST and Columbus basketball players looked to 1949 with sharply different feelings after their New Year's Eve meeting Friday at the Northeast gym.

Rocket players will be glad to continue in the fashion that brought them their third win of the season, a 61-23 romp over the visitors from the Big Ten and more recently the Mid-East conference.

Columbus cagers no doubt resolved to do better in future meetings against all foes, especially against Mid-East opponents. The Discoverers recently replaced Crete in the league, but will not take part in this year's basketball program.

There was little that the visitors did right. Even if they had been hitting shots and connecting with passes, it is doubtful that they could have outgunned the 15-man Northeast attack.

THREE TEAMS.
Rocket Coach Dawdy Hawkins tossed three teams into the game as his first team built up a sizeable first-quarter advantage. After eight minutes the Northeast team was ahead 17-0. A scoring drought hit the Columbus team for the next period and a similar point scarcity cropped up. Three points were all the Discoverers could find in either of the periods.

In the meantime, the Rockets were rolling merrily. Sophomore Center Paul Fredstrom took command of the scoring parade as he netted 14 points for the evening. He got the Rockets off to the proper start by scoring six of the first eight NE points.

Along with his offensive splurge, Fredstrom did a workmanlike job of tying up the Columbus center, Merritt Schwarzwelber, who had been tabbed as a scoring threat.

The 6-4 Columbus pivot man finished his night's work with six points.

LATE SPURT.
Northeast ran the visitors into the boards during the third and fourth quarters after a dismal second period had brought the teams to intermission with the Rockets sporting a 25-12 lead.

The score was 27-17 when Jack Woods scored his only two buckets of the night. Hoyt Hultberg hit a free throw and a fielder and Fredstrom supplied two free throws and a field goal. This collection of points plus a flicker by Ron Butler gave the Rockets a 40-17 margin before Columbus could score again.

It was the same pattern in the fourth quarter. The Discoverers could pick up only three points, while second and third-string Rockets did their bit in padding the victory margin. Twelve players scored two or more points for the winners.

SHOTS CONNECT.
Accuracy percentages tell the story. Northeast players connected on 26 of 77 shots for a mark of 34 per cent. Columbus marksmen hit only seven of 37 shots for an 18 per cent score.

Guard Don Welch tossed in three long shots and a free throw to win scoring honors for the losers. The loss was the third in five starts for Columbus.

UP IN THE AIR—Paul Fredstrom of Northeast gets the jump on Don Welch (22) of Columbus and scores high into the air to net a field goal that shoved the Rockets to a 40 lead early in the game. (Staff Photo.)

Hamline Takes LA Tournament
LOS ANGELES—(AP)— The Hamline University Pipers of St. Paul, Minn., called the tune and made the Pepperdine Waves dance it their way in defeating the Los Angeles team 62 to 38 for the title in the Los Angeles National College Invitational basketball championships.

Victory in the New Year's Eve tournament finale made it nine in a row for the undefeated Pipers.

The sharpshooting out-of-towners had it their way all the way. Although Pepperdine won two earlier games by good margins, they were able to score only two points in the first 20 minutes. They trailed at halftime, 29 to 6.

Ted Schroeder Keeps Sugar Bowl Net Crown
NEW ORLEANS—(AP)— Ted Schroeder, Davis Cup star from Los Angeles, successfully defended his Sugar Bowl tennis title here Friday, defeating Earl Cochell of San Francisco, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3, for permanent possession of the championship cup.

It was Schroeder's third tournament victory here in eight years. He won the Sugar Bowl tournament first in 1941 and again last year.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
